

I urge you to reconsider your intention to increase the number of television stations, radio stations, and newspapers that can be held by a single corporate entity. A restricted number of owners is controlling the flow of information and news in this country, and the public interest is not being served. In fact, the non-existent discussion of this issue on major television networks, radio stations, and by large newspaper chains epitomizes the fact that they do not want the public to know that the debate is taking place, and what the stakes are for freedom of speech in this country. Thank you for reading my comments.